Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 23, 24, and 25, 1942. The exhibit is to be held the first two days, and the conference will be held on the third day only. The theme chosen is: "The Role of the School and Home in Our War Effort." Tentative plans include a nationally prominent speaker, discussion groups, and other features. The committee is co-operating with the recently appointed college committee on Education and Civic Morale. Dr. Roscoe Linder is chairman of the committee in charge.

Industrial Education Association President

Kenyon S. Fletcher, assistant director of vocational training for defense workers, was named president of the Illinois Industrial Education Association at the organization's annual convention in Chicago recently. Mr. Fletcher is on leave of absence from Illinois State Normal University while engaged in defense work.

English Teachers Confer on Emergency

Using the theme, "The Role of the English Teacher in the Emergency," Northern Illinois State Teachers College held an English conference, one of a series sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English, on its campus, Friday, May 22. All English teachers in the schools of the surrounding area were invited to attend.

The program included a keynote address by Dr. John J. DeBoer, of Chicago Teachers College, who is president of the National Council of Teachers of English. A panel discussion of the subject "Remedial Reading as a Tool for Education in a Democracy" was presented by Mrs. Helen Rand Miller, Evanston Township High School; Ruth Whitfield, New Trier Township High School; Mary Williams, N.I.S.T.C.; and Dale Vetter, Illinois State Normal University. Following the panel, there was an open forum discussion of the subject.

Social Welfare Organizations Sponsor Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Southern Illinois Welfare Association and the S.I.N.U. Bureau of Child Guidance was recently held on the campus. Devoted to the theme, "Child and Social Welfare in War Time," the meetings featured outstanding authorities in the fields of social work and child guidance.

Reading Clinic

Dr. Margaret Pankaskie, of the speech and reading clinic at Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Indiana, has been secured as the specialist for the reading clinic to be held at Western Illinois State Teachers College, Tuesday through Thursday, July 7-9, 1942. Dr. Pankaskie will be in attendance two of the three days, July 8 and 9.

The clinic sessions will feature lectures, demonstrations, and case work. A limited number of cases of pupils having reading disabilities referred by public school teachers will be accepted for study, including diagnosis and recommendations as to treatment procedures. Class demonstrations will be contributed by Western's Training School staff.

The reading clinic will be of particular interest to classroom teachers, supervisors, principals, and superintendents who are concerned with meeting the needs of their pupils.
